

Workshop on connected and automated driving pilots

From 11 September 2018, 15:30

To 12 September, 16:30

ERTICO – ITS Europe Office

326 Avenue Louise, 1050 Brussels

In 2016 and 2017, the European Commission organised, with the support of the CARTRE Action, a series of workshops to exchange information about automated driving pilots across Europe, involving representatives from European and national initiatives but also from Member States interested in running automated vehicle testing on public roads in the near future. The dialogue continued, namely through the Transport Research Arena session “Automated Vehicle Testing on European Public Roads” in April 2018. Those events allowed to gain valuable insights on common challenges and priority areas for experience sharing, as well as the need for continued facilitation of such collaboration.

CARTRE is organising a follow-up workshop in Brussels on 11-12 September 2018. The purpose of this workshop is to share knowledge and experiences as well as formalize concrete actions, e.g. in the form of working groups, for further cooperation in the longer term. The targeted audience is, though not limited to, stakeholders involved in past and ongoing automation pilots, both European and national, as well as those planning to undertake similar tests in the future.

Agenda

The main topics that will be structuring the agenda of the workshop, and the afferent, horizontal issues to be discussed are the following:

- Data sharing (e.g. anonymization, legal & ethical issues, cybersecurity);
- Impact assessment (e.g. KPIs, methodologies, use cases & test scenarios);
- Knowledgebase, i.e. location where to centralise and publicise all knowledge related to the above and more (e.g. ontology/ terminology)
